SEVEN MINERS KILLED.

Coal Dust in a Mine Ignited by an Overcharge Blast.

FIVE OF THE DEAD LEAVE FAMILIES

In Addition to Those Killed Four Others Were Badly Injured, One of Whom Will Die—The Disaster Caused by an Incompetent Miner.

WHEELING, W. Va., Nov. 21.—The most appalling mine disaster that ever occurred in this section of West Virginia happened shortly after noon yesterday at the Blanch coal mines, on the Pan Handle railroad at Collier's Station. A new miner, an Italian, put off an overcharge blast, which ignited the coal dust in the mine, and a fearful explosion followed, carrying death and destruction in its path. There were forty-eight men in the mine at the time, and the following are known to be killed: Michael Rooney, Thomas Jordon, Thomas Tucker, David Rowland, John Donnelly, Antonio Sattie and Mazzle Gissiedeo. The last five leave families. The following are badly injured: Raefel Necki (will die), Jose Refael, Jasper Lawrence and Thomas Morris (deceased).

After the explosion there was a terrific whirlwind in the mine, carrying everything before it. Donnelly and Rooney were in the mine some distance, and were going towards the entrance. The force of the explosion drove them nearly a hundred yards from the mouth of the mine and landed Rooney on the railroad track, killing him instantly. Donnelly, who leaves ten children, landed in a gully, striking his head against a post. His brains were dashed out and scattered for yards around. His wife was the first to find him, and she swooned away and is now lying prostrated by the shock. There is little hope that she will recover.

The news of the disaster quickly spread, and in a few moments hundreds of people were crowded about the mouth of the mine. Many heartrending scenes were enacted. The wives and children of the miners were frantic, and the strong men were even overcome. In a short time a rescuing party was organized and went into the mines after the bodies. When the bodies were brought to the surface many women swooned at the sight.

There were miraculous escapes when the explosion occurred. William Davis was in the entry, 150 feet from the entrance, and when he heard the explosion he lay down near the rib of the mine, and the whirlwind, carrying rocks, fire and death, passed over him. An empty coal car standing at the entrance of the mine was blown twenty-five yards.

The mine is owned by W. E. Smith, of Wellsville, and L. C. Smith, of New Cumberland. The miners charge that the accident was due to the inexperience of the Italian miner, and declare they will not work with Italians any more.

Prosecuting Attorney Cotton and Coroner Walkinshaw, of Wellsburg, were soon on the ground and took charge of the bodies, and will conduct a rigid investigation. This is the second accident of the kind which has occurred at this mine. Just two years ago, Nov. 21, 1892, a similar explosion occurred, in which three were killed and seven injured. The state mine inspector arrived here today to take part in the investigation.

Withdrawing from the Association.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—Two more lines withdrew from the Western Passenger association yesterday, the Chicago Great Western and the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern being the ones to pull out. This leaves in the association only the Burlington, Illinois Central, Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and the Chicago and Northwestern. All of these lines may withdraw before the end of the week. Several of the lines that have pulled out of the association have already declared themselves in favor of reorganizing, and such action will undoubtedly be taken at the meeting next Monday.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 21.—Florence Wells, the 16-year-old daughter of George Wells, of this city, died at her father's residence from the effects of a criminal operation performed, it is alleged, at the solicitation of her betrayer, George Willard, a young railroad man, early last month. Willard was arrested in Chicago last week and brought to this city Monday night. The police are searching for the physician who is charged with having performed the operation.

FAYETTE, Mo., Nov. 21.—Hundreds of men awaited the arrival of the negro Ison Payne, who recently brutally assaulted Mrs. Rush, of this city, and was captured at Clinton, but Deputy Sheriff Williams, who went for the prisoner, left Payne at Booneville. Masked men also met the train at each siding and station between Booneville and here. It is believed he will be lynched when brought here for examination.

TO DESTROY JAPAN'S NAVY.

The Capture of Alleged Americans Who Accepted the Contract.

VICTORIA, B. C., Nov. 21.—The steamship Empress of China arrived yesterday with Yokohama advices to the 9th inst. Some excitement has been created in Yokohama by the detention of the steamship Gaelic on her outward voyage to Hong Kong by the Japanese authorities. According to the general report two of the passengers were known to be naval experts and the possessors of some secret engine of destruction which was in their baggage. Nothing liable to seizure was found, however, and the vessel was allowed to proceed.

While the examination at Yokohama was drawing to a close intelligence was received that the suspected travelers had transferred themselves and their belongings to the French mail steamer Sydney, and were on their way to Shanghai by way of Kobe. Permission to search the ship was obtained from the French consul at Kobe, and the discovery was soon made that a passenger calling himself John Brown, claiming to be an American, was bound for China, under contract with the authorities of that empire to "destroy the Japanese navy within eight weeks from the time of his arrival." He professes to have discovered an explosive of tremendous power, which he declared he had first offered to Japan, but as his proposal was contemptuously refused he sought employment from the Chinese legation at Washington. Receiving sufficient encouragement, he started at once for the east, accompanied by an American assistant, registered as George Howie, and a Chinese interpreter, furnished him by the legation.

The men were arrested, and are now under close guardianship in Kobe. The affair concerns more or less directly three western nations—the United States, France and England—and it is already under consideration by the diplomatic agents of the respective governments. The parties arrested bore a letter to Li Hung Chang from the envoy at Washington, and also a formal contract promising to pay $1,000,000 for the destruction of the Japanese navy and a specified sum for every merchant ship destroyed. It appears that $100,000 have already been paid on account. Some doubts are entertained as to the nationality of Brown and Howie. They declare themselves English by birth, but Americans by naturalization. One or both served until recently in the Brazilian navy.

Master Workman Sovereign Re-elected.

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 21.—The Knights of Labor yesterday, after approving the report of the financial committee, proceeded to the election of officers. At the evening session the old executive board was re-elected as follows: T. B. McGuire, Amsterdam, N. Y.; H. B. Martin, St. Paul, Minn.; C. A. French, Marlboro, Mass.; James M. Kenny, Omaha, Neb. Washington, D. C., was chosen as the place for holding the next annual convention.

Three Killed at a Crossing.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—A carriage containing a man and two women, while crossing the tracks of the Reading railroad at Washington lane, was struck by a train. One of the occupants of the vehicle and the flagman at the crossing were instantly killed, one of the women was fatally and the other severely injured. The dead are: John Horace Meachim, 45 years, a resident of East Washington lane, Germantown; Mrs. Meachim, wife of the former; Patrick Lacey, 57 years old, who lived near the crossing. Mrs. Francis Smith, 40 years old, had her left arm broken and sustained internal injuries.

In the past two days it has developed malignant features, and if blood poisoning sets in, which his physicians fear, there will be no hope for his recovery, owing to his advanced age.

BAYARD'S RETURN TO ENGLAND.

Our Ambassador Cordially Welcomed to His Post of Duty.

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The North German Lloyd steamer Havel arrived at Southampton last night from New York. Among her passengers were Hon. Thomas F. Bayard, American ambassador to Great Britain, and Mrs. Bayard. On the tender which went out to meet the Havel were the mayor and corporation of Southampton, the American and German consuls and others. A band was also present, and shortly before it reached the steamer began playing "Yankee Doodle." Mr. Bayard was given a most hearty welcome. In the saloon of the Havel an informal reception was given by Mr. Bayard. The mayor handed to the ambassador an address of welcome, and referred to his famous speech at Wilmington, Del., in which the ambassador had highly praised the British queen and people. Such commendation, the mayor said, was highly gratifying to the British people and was heartily reciprocated.

The dinner was one of the largest in point of attendance in the history of the chamber of commerce, more than 300 guests having been in attendance. Among the guests were James H. Eckels, comptroller of the currency; Major General Nelson A. Miles, William L. Strong, mayor-elect of New York; Charles S. The subject of discussion was "Good Government."

Mine Fire Near Mauch Chunk.

MAUCH CHUNK, Pa., Nov. 21.—No. 11 colliery, located between No. 10 and Coalport, on the Nesquehoning branch of the Central railroad, and owned and operated by the Lehigh Coal and Navagation company, was found yesterday to be on fire. The discovery was made by a miner who went down in the shaft. He had great difficulty in getting back, and when taken out was pretty badly used up. There are thirty-eight mules in the burning mine, but it is generally supposed that the animals can be saved by taking them through the manways. How the mine caught fire is a mystery. The mine is a valuable one, and gave employment to between 300 and 400 men.

Fight with Murderous Burglars.

MEMPHIS, Nov. 21.—Sunday night Henry Fitzgerald, a clerk in the store of E. M. Yuddotha, at Friar's Point, Miss., was shot and killed by two burglars, who escaped in a canoe in waiting down the river. The crime created great indignation, and the citizens of Friar's Point chartered a steamboat and gave chase. The robbers were overtaken forty miles below Friar's Point yesterday, and a pitched battle ensued. One of the bandits was killed instantly, and the other escaped to the Arkansas shore, where he is being pursued with bloodhounds. The fugitive is known to be seriously wounded.

Assaulted for Kissing a Pupil.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—Gustave Goethert, a music teacher at 1332 Girard avenue, is now lying at his home in a precarious condition, due to a beating alleged to have been given him because he kissed a girl pupil while teaching her a lesson on the piano. The girl's father, J. W. Priestly, and Michael Harkins are in jail for the assault. The girl is 12 years old, and the teacher kissed her because she had done well in her lessons. The father, however, objected, and went to Gothert's residence, accompanied by Harkins, and committed the assault.

After Trenton's Trolley Lines.

TRENTON, Nov. 21.—The common council of Trenton last night passed a resolution instructing City Solicitor Rellsted to prepare an ordinance revoking all the privileges granted the Trenton Passenger Railway company to use the streets of the city and to operate a trolley system. This action is the result of the failure of the company to put into operation an acceptable transfer system, providing for a single fare to all parts of the city, over different routes, as agreed to last January, when the company was granted the right to operate trolley lines.

The Baltimore union was authorized to inaugurate a strike to abolish the sweating system. The strike will affect 6,000 workmen.

ACCOMPLISHED SCAMP.

Story of Mudgett, the Life Insurance Swindler.

DR. MEYER'S SUCCESSFUL RIVAL.

Though Only Thirty-four Years Old He Has Been a Criminal for Years—Confessed to Complicity in the Murder of a Woman at Chicago.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—City Detective Crawford and Supervisor Perry, of the Fidelity Mutual, arrived yesterday with two of the accused life insurance swindlers, Mudgett, alias Holmes, and Mrs. Pitezel, wife or widow of the missing man on whose policy $10,000 was collected fraudulently.

Holmes was raised in Burlington, Vt., and studied in the schools there until he was 15 years old. He taught school for a time, and afterwards attended the local college, working in summer time to pay his fees. Graduating in Burlington he went to a Michigan college, and there made the acquaintance, as a student, of the physician who, he alleges, agreed to supply the body used in this last fraud from New York. The two young men worked during vacations, as Holmes had done in the east. About twelve years ago, one summer, they were short of funds, and Holmes' friend thought of an insurance swindle, in which a bogus body was to be used. The friend, now a physician, had his life insured for $12,500; the body was procured in Chicago; the identification with the insured doctor was made, and Holmes collected the money.

The scheme was repeated several times. On one occasion Holmes insured his own life for $20,000. Then he went to a hotel in Rhode Island, wearing a beard. He got a body, took it two miles from the hotel, cut the head off, and buried the rest. He shaved, went to the hotel, registered under a new name, and asked for Holmes. They said he had gone out, but was staying at the hotel. The swindler took the head, charred it in the hotel furnace and tried to identify it as his own. This particular scheme fell through.

An account is given of the mysterious disappearance of a young woman who was intimate with Holmes. The story was confirmed by the criminal himself in his conversation with Crawford. In Chicago, he said, where he was living with his second wife, he became intimate with a young girl, a typewriter. He furnished apartments for her, where she was visited by her sister, older than she. The young girl, infatuated with Holmes, became jealous of her sister, and one day, in his absence, brained her with a stool.

"When I came back," continued the swindler, "I found the dead body in the rooms. I took the corpse, put it in a trunk and sank it in the lake. This was a year and a half ago. The younger sister, in danger of arrest for murder, was anxious to escape. She owned some property at Fort Worth amounting to $40,000. Pitezel and I took this property off her hands and gave her money to fly the country.

"We then bought horses, getting credit on the strength of the Fort Worth property. But the deeds weren't straight, and we needed money to keep the thing going. So the two of us agreed to work the insurance scheme again, and that's how this trouble began."

Mudgett's Early Life.

TILTON, N. H., Nov. 21.—H. H. Holmes, who was arrested in Boston on the charge of conspiring to defraud the Fidelity Mutual Life Insurance company of $10,000, is a New Hampshire man. Holmes, or Herman Mudgett, as he is known here, is 34 years of age, and was born in a small town a few miles from here. He was regarded as a scapegrace and never had any particular occupation. Eight years ago he left very mysteriously and nothing has been known of him until last year, when he visited his parents. He explained that when he left New Hampshire he went west and while traveling there he had his skull fractured and was robbed of his gold watch and considerable money in a railroad accident. In the hospital he was given the name of H. H. Holmes and went out not knowing that he had ever had any other. He then went to Ann Arbor, studied law and graduated. During the year of his mental trouble he married a western woman and by her had one child. When the name of Herman Mudgett dawned upon him he said he had an uncontrollable desire to visit his home and friends, and that is how he accounted for his sudden appearance here.

The Denver Strangler's Methods.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 21.—On the 25th of last July Mary Ekhart, of Dayton, was found dead in her room, 292 Walnut street, this city, with a towel knotted around her neck, her room locked and no clew of the murderer left. The Enquirer connects this murder with that of Minnie Keldt in New York on May 31 and that of Josie Bennett, in Buffalo, on June 30, to both of which the Cincinnati murder was similar in respect to manner and mystery. The Enquirer then calls attention to the resemblance in circumstances between these three murders and the three strangling murders in Denver. It suggests that all these murders were committed by one and the same man, the Denver strangler, as indicated by the resemblance in method and concurrent circumstances.

Another Charge Against Mudgett.

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 21.—There is every reason to believe that H. H. Holmes, now under arrest in Philadelphia, who went by the name of O. C. Pratt in Fort Worth, is guilty of murdering Minnie R. Williams and her sister, Annie Williams, of this place, the crime having probably been committed in Chicago, and in this crime a man who claimed, when here, to be a citizen of Chicago, and calling himself Benton T. Lyman, is an accomplice. The alleged crime was for the possession of property here.

THE EARTHQUAKES IN SICILY.

Later Reports Increase the Death List to Over Two Hundred.

ROME, Nov. 21.—The earthquake shocks continue at Milazzo, on the north coast of the Island of Sicily, and the fact that the volcano of Stromboli is nearly in a state of eruption is accepted as proof that the disturbances are of volcanic origin. The inhabitants of Milazzo continue in a state of the greatest terror. They are living in huts hastily erected in the fields. Elsewhere the feeling of alarm is subsiding and business is resuming its normal course.

Reports received from the province of Reggio de Calabria aggregate the number of deaths and the amount of damage done. Two hundred corpses have been extricated from the ruins of houses at San Procopio, of which number forty-eight bodies were found beneath the ruins of the church. The number of persons said to be injured is enormous.

It is estimated that the damage done to buildings at Palmi, not counting the loss incurred in furniture destroyed, will amount to 2,000,000 lire. Fifteen buildings collapsed entirely and 300 others are irreparably damaged. Every house in the town has suffered more or less, and not one remains habitable. At Palmi six persons were killed and over 200 injured. Eight persons perished at Seminara, and 200 people were injured. The tombstones and mortuary chapels in the cemetery of Seminara were upheaved and completely shattered. The villages of Barapieri and Santa were destroyed.

In Reggio the postoffice, prefecture, town hall, court house and prison were almost wrecked. Cases were heard yesterday in the open yard attached to the court house, and the prisoners were placed on board ships, where they will be kept until the prison is repaired.

Offers of Mediation Declined.

TOKIO, Nov. 21.—It is learned that the Japanese government has sent its reply to the note of United States Minister Dun, asking whether a tender by the president of the United States of his offices in the interest of restoring peace in the east would be agreeable to Japan. Before reaching a conclusion the ministry gave the matter consideration for several days, and finally stated to Mr. Dun that, although the friendly sentiments which prompted the government and people of the United States were deeply appreciated, the success of the Japanese arms had been such that China should approach Japan directly on the subject.

Warlike Guatemalans.

OAXACA, Mexico, Nov. 21.—The situation on the Guatemalan and Mexican borders is very threatening, and it is believed that the Guatemalan troops are at this time preparing to make an aggressive movement against Mexico within the next few days. A feeling of great apprehension exists among the people of the states of Tabasco, Chiapas and Oaxaca, which are situated on the border, over the threatened invasion, and many settlers are leaving the turbulent section pending a settlement of the difficulty.

EXECUTION OF FRANCH.

The Arch-Anarchist Pays the Penalty of His Fearful Crime.

UNREPENTANT TO THE END OF LIFE

The Man Who Threw the Bombs in the Liceo Theater, Barcelona, Killing Twenty People and Injuring Many Others, Cursed the Priests Who Offered Consolation.

BARCELONA, Spain, Nov. 21.—Jose Salvador Franch, probably the most desperate anarchist of Europe, the man who on Nov. 7, 1893, threw a dynamite bomb into the Liceo theater here, killing twenty people and wounding fifty others, was executed soon after 7 o'clock this morning.

Franch was taken yesterday morning to the prison chapel, there to pass the last twenty-four hours of his life. The chapel was heavily draped with black, and lighted yellow candles were displayed on the altar, producing a gruesome effect.

Franch refused to sign his death warrant, as the law requires, exclaiming: "Long live anarchy."

Upon entering the chapel Franch refused to receive the priests, and to a Jesuit father who sought to administer religious consolation the anarchist exclaimed fiercely: "Get out! I was only acting. Only pretending to be religious in order to live well and hoping to get a pardon. The crime I committed was an expiation due from the Bourgeoisie."

To the end he maintained the same spirit of bravado, and as he was led to his death he cursed the guards, the priests and all who came within sound of his voice.

The crime for which Jose Salvador Franch suffered the death penalty was the most revolting of all the crimes of European anarchists. On the night of Nov. 7, 1893, while the Liceo theatre here was crowded with an audience composed mainly of the elite of the city, two bombs were thrown from the gallery into the audience beneath. One of the bombs exploded with frightful force, and when the excitement had partially subsided it was discovered that twenty persons had been killed or received injuries which afterward proved fatal, while fifty others were seriously wounded. Some time afterward French was arrested, and on trial was convicted and sentenced to death. After his conviction he pretended penitence and conversion, and was allowed certain liberties. His penitence being doubted, the prison officials were ordered to cease their lenient treatment, and on being told of this French burst forth into a torrent of violent invective against all religions and all governments. But for this his sentence might have been commuted. Franch was 32 years old.

CHICAGO, Nov. 21.—A cylinder head blew out of a locomotive on the Alley elevated road last evening and caused a lively panic among the passengers on the train, although none of them were hurt. William Ullrich, fireman, jumped from the engine to the ground, a distance of thirty feet, and escaped with a broken leg. George Warde, the engineer, has not yet been found, and it is thought that he also jumped.

said the bright woman who had asked for Pearline, to the grocer who wanted to sell her some imitation of it, "whether you do sell more of these other things or not, there must be something in Pearline which makes the flies avoid it. I notice that all the Pearline packages are clean and fresh. All the others are fly-specked!"

This is a true story. Everything is true that we print about Pearline. The thing in Pearline that keeps flies off is its popularity. It doesn't stay on the shelves long enough to become soiled. When women want washing made easy, without any risk of harm, they must have Pearline.

Send it Back Peddlers and some unscrupulous grocers will tell you "this is as good as" or "the same as Pearline." IT'S FALSE—Pearline is never peddled, and if your grocer sends you something in place of Pearline, be honest—send it back. 427 JAMES PYLE, New York.

THE NEW WORLD METROPOLIS.

Chicago Reaching For New York's Crown as Queen of the Continent.

This significant editorial appears in that very much alive New York paper, The World:

"Consolidation must take place or soon the pushing western city will appear upon the map as the queen of the continent. The figures are conclusive. In 1900, unless consolidation takes place, it will surely be smaller, and Chicago will utter a tremendous roar, which will echo and re-echo around the world, for New York will have lost the leading place, with all the power, prestige, importance and substantial benefits such a place brings. And Chicago will have it and make the most of it. The advantages of being the first city in population cannot be overestimated. It is an advertisement all over the world. It attracts capital and a thousand other benefits."

There is no help for New York. It must submit to the inevitable. Chicago is catching up at a pace that cannot be lessened. Chicago is bound by all laws of progress to pass New York within the near future and to take and keep the position of first city of the continent, foremost of the cities of the new world.

The usual statistical estimate of manhood voters is one to five of the entire population. Deducting the registration by women, which is comparatively insignificant, the population of the city of Chicago must be today more than 1,500,000, and remembering the rate per cent of increase in past decades, taking the average and accepting the mathematical demonstration, it will scarcely require the opening of a new century to find Chicago at the head of American cities.

It is true, as the New York newspaper says, "the advantage of being the first city in population cannot be overestimated. It is an advertisement all over the world. It attracts capital and a thousand other benefits."

The men who founded New York on its narrow strip of land were not farsighted. They thought only of their immediate profits from trade. The men who founded Chicago were farsighted. They thought of the future of their city, the destiny of their country. The former were foreigners who had no idea of becoming Americans. The latter were Americans. New York has continued to be a foreign city. Chicago has always been an American city.

Consolidation with Brooklyn will not avail New York now. Lack of Americanism is its constitutional defect. It is past repairing now, so far as predominance is concerned.—Chicago Herald.

AN UNCANNY PHOTOGRAPH.

A Newly Wedded Couple's Picture Marred by a Ghostly Intruder.

The people of Elma, a bustling, lively town in the upper part of Chehalis county, are mystified over a photograph. Last Tuesday afternoon Major Rogers and wife entered the gallery of H. B. Merriweather of that city and had their pictures taken. On removing the plate the artist noticed that the picture was not perfect, and throwing the plate into the bath took another, which was a very good likeness of the old major and his bride. They have been married less than three months and are each on the shady side of 50.

Mrs. Rogers called Wednesday for a proof and expressed a desire to see the first plate. On holding the plate up to the light the photographer saw three figures, one a man appearing between the major and Mrs. Rogers.

Handing it to the lady, she glanced at it and went into hysterics, exclaiming, "It is ——" (her first husband). She begged the artist to say nothing about it, as it would scare the major to death, but in some way the matter became known and soon spread over the town, nearly every one calling at the office to see the negative. Mr. Merriweather claims the plate was taken from a new box and had not been exposed.

Mrs. Rogers, it is said, is a medium of note. She is from the east and has lived in Elma about two months. The figure is distinct, both in form and feature, and stands out apparently ahead of the major and Mrs. Rogers.—Aberdeen (Wash.) Cor. Portland Oregonian.

THE MARRIAGE MARKET.

Prices Are Fair For Gilt Edge Stock, but Job Lots Are Cheap.

It is too early in the season to predict what the prospect for business in the matrimonial market will be. Dealers are carrying over large stocks from last year, and the overproduction of debutantes and the importation of foreign fascinators may have a depressing effect upon the market. Dealers are anxious to realize, but the market continues firm, with an upward tendency.

Prim, first class, country bred winners are at a premium. Last season's society whirlers are below par. There is a better feeling in rosebuds, and prices to foreign noblemen are phenomenally low. Mothers-in-law, after having touched bottom figures, A1, are reviving and are quoted at 88⅛, middling 73, good ordinary 61. It is confidently predicted that before the fiscal year ends mothers-in-law will go to 114 unless unforeseen complications arise calculated to bear the market. Fathers-in-law are extremely dull. Small brothers find no market, and maiden aunts are not listed. Gilt edged orphans are scarce and but few offering. The stock on hand Oct. 1, 1894, of good matches among the men is too small to note in a sworn to statement of effects and liabilities.—Washington Post.

Driven to Suicide by Women.

The fact is carefully suppressed by the English press that Viscount Drumlanrig, the eldest son of the Marquis of Queensberry, whose death was announced last week, committed suicide. The young man was recently engaged, and the announcement caused two other women with whom he had relations to threaten him. The young man blew his brains out.—Vogue.

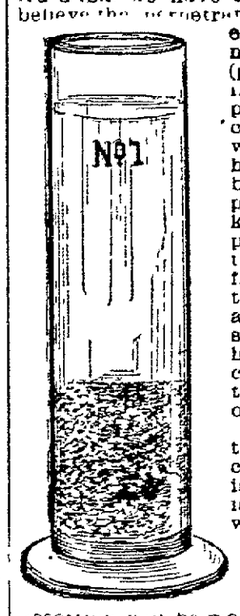
PA-KOLA VINDICATED.

GROSS IGNORANCE EXPOSED.

Its Value and Healthfulness Are Fully Established.

The results obtained by certain professed chemists in an attempt to analyze Paskola are so far from the truth that we have every reason to believe the perpetrators to be in the employ of rival manufacturers (possibly people interested in the preparation of cod liver oil) whose business has been injured by the merited popularity of Paskola. This suspicion is strengthened by the fact that the untruthful reports as to the composition of Paskola have been widely circulated thro' the mails and otherwise.



Among the things, the so-called "chemists" have stated is that Paskola was nothing but glucose and hydrochloric acid, the ridiculousness of which assertion will be made clear by the following experiment:

Take two pint bottles; in one place a tablespoon of glucose and in the other a like quantity of Paskola; fill them with water, shake thoroughly and add to each forty drops of muriatic or hydrochloric acid, in order to imitate the acidity of the natural gastric juice. Having previously finely minced a quantity of rare or raw lean beef, chicken, the white of hard boiled eggs or similar foods; put into each bottle one ounce. Immerse the bottles in warm water and carefully maintain the contents at a temperature of 100 to 105 degrees Fahrenheit, frequently shaking in order to thoroughly expose the food to the action of the solution.

In course of a very short time the contents of the bottle containing Paskola will be seen to undergo a change, and in two or three hours the food will have become entirely dissolved or digested; whereas the contents of the other bottle containing the glucose and acid will show no change beyond a slight difference in appearance.

If you have neither the facilities nor the inclination to make the test for yourself we have no doubt that your druggist will be glad to try the experiment. The tubes herewith show their suits of a test made in our laboratory the cuts being from a photograph. No 1 contained glucose, and No. 2 Paskola. What are we to conclude? One of two things either that the so called "chemists" are ignorant or dishonest.

Glucose has no digestive properties. This is a well known fact, whereas Paskola is giving relief to thousands of dyspeptics, a truth attested by the unsolicited testimonials that pour in upon us. The presence of digestive ferments in Paskola cannot be determined by chemical test. No one has ever seen digestive ferments in a pure form, and the only way to determine their presence is by observing the effects which they produce upon food. This is a fact recognized by every authority, and will be found stated in Foster's Physiology and other standard words.

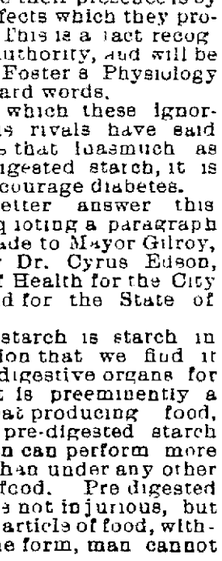
Another thing which these ignorant and jealous rivals have said about Paskola, is that inasmuch as its basis is pre-digested starch, it is calculated to encourage diabetes.

We cannot better answer this charge than by quoting a paragraph from a report made to Mayor Gilroy, of New York, by Dr. Cyrus Edson, Commissioner of Health for the City of New York, and for the State of New York.

"Pre-digested starch is starch in the exact condition that we find it prepared by the digestive organs for assimilation. It is preeminently a fat forming, heat producing food. Under a diet of pre-digested starch or glucose, a man can perform more muscular work than under any other single article of food. Pre digested starch not only is not injurious, but it is an essential article of food, without which is some form, man cannot enjoy life."

This letter from Dr. Edson was written in answer to an inquiry from the Mayor as to whether or not pre-digested starch was healthful.

Paskola contains a specific form of pre-digested starch as well as digestive ferments, and is not alone a fat ening food but it aids the digestion of other foods in the stomach, just as you may see in the above experiment. The tired, feeble stomach of the dyspeptic is too weak to do its duty. It needs a little help; this help Paskola gives. Its use is at once followed by a sense of well being, vigor strength and courage. The appetite improves and the sufferer can eat with comfort where before distress followed every meal. Paskola corrects emaciation and the pale, thin sufferers rapidly gain in weight under its use. Consumptives will experience a thousand times more benefit by it than from the use of disagreeable, nauseating cod liver oil, that often does more harm than good. Consumption need not prove fatal if we can arrest the loss of flesh, for its victim virtually dies of starvation.



Send for our interesting pamphlet, and learn about this wonderful preparation. We will gladly mail you a copy free, upon application The Pre-digested Food Co, 30 Reade Street, New York.

GOSHEN, NOV. 20.—Mr. Boyd was in the chair and all the members present.

Ex-Supervisor Tuthill, supply committee for Middletown, reported the expenditure of $1,965.96 for the Middletown Armory, as follows: $935 for armorer's salary; $206 to Bodine & Co. for coal; $341 for light and the balance for sundries.

On motion of Mr. Nearpass $14,000 was levied on Deerpark to pay interest on bonds issued in aid of the Monticello Railroad.

Assesments to the amount of $48,200, omitted by mistake, were added to Warwick's assesement roll.

Harrison W. Nanny, representing the heirs of George Halsey, of Hamptonburgh, appeared before the Board and asked that $408 be added to the audits of the town for the payment of Halsey's claim as one of the drafted men of the town. He said that Halsey was known as George Smith, because he lived with a family of that name. Mr. Webb said he had opposed payment because sufficient proof of the identity of George Smith and George Halsey had not been presented. Referred to Law Committee and made a special order for Thursday afternoon.

Messrs Post, Kissam and Emslie were appointed to apportion $1,600 for support of poor between Newburgh city and town.

On Mr Wells' motion the Law Committee was instructed to investigate the right to sell the old Surrogate's building to the Goshen Library Association, and the matter was made a special order for Thursday afternoon.

Highway Commissioners' returns for unworked labor were referred to the Law Committee.

HOW STOUT GOT STOUT

THE REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE OF A RHEUMATIC SUFFERER.

All But Paralyzed—Lost His Flesh and Expected to Die—How He Got Well and Strong.

From the Mt. Sterling, Ill., Republican.

Few men are held in higher esteem by their fellow townspeople than Jas. W. Stout of Ripley, Ill., and it is due no doubt partly to his popularity that the record of the case has created such wide-spread interest. While his experience is not without an equal, yet, it has been sufficiently remarkable to demand the attention of thousands of people in Illinois, among whom are numbered some of the most eminent physicians.

In January, 1893, Mr. Stout was stricken with what was then believed to be to be sciatic rheumatism, and in a short time was barely able to to hobble around on his crutches, and it seemed to his friends that his days were numbered. To-day he is a strong, hearty looking man of 160 pounds.

How this wonderful change was brought about is most interestingas told to a representative of the Republican by Mr. Stout himself:

"I was afflicted with sciatic rheumatism and lumbago in January, 1893. The sciatic nerve on the right side became affected in the hip, running down to the ankle and across the small of the back to the left side, and soon my whole system became afflicted, causing me the most excruciating pain. In a very short time I became totally unable to attend to any business whatever, and the disease rapidly growing worse I had to take to my bed, where I lay suffering almost continuously for months the most agonizing torture, scarcely being able to move or be moved At one time I lay for six weeks flat on my back, the slightest movement causing me such pain as almost to throw me into convulsions. I cannot begin to express to you the intense pain I suffered. I was drawn, by the severeness of the malady, over to the left side; lost my appetite, had no desire for food and what little I did eat I could not digest, the digestive organs failing to perform their duty, adding greatly to my already precarious condition. For weeks at a time I was unable to eat or sleep, suffering all the time most intensely and at times fearing I would lose my reason, and would have welcomed death to relieve me of my sufferings.

I consulted with local physicians and some of the most eminent specialists of the larger cities throughout the county, some treating me for one thing and some for another, but without effect, and I received no relief whatever. One physician told me I had double curvature of the spine and would eventually become paralyzed. I spent hundreds of dollars in the short time I was afflicted without receiving the least benefit. My friends all thought that there was no hope for me whatever—and said that I must die, and I myself, had almost given up in despair, when in September, 1893, about eight months after I was first afflicted, my attention was called to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. Without much hope, I at once sent to C F. Blakey & Co., Druggists, Mt. Sterling, Ill., and procured some of the pills and immediately began taking them. Before long I became aware of great change for the better in my almost hopeless condition. My appetite came back and my digestive organs performed their usual functions properly. I took some more and grew rapidly better—could sit up in a chair and my body began to straighten out; continued the treatment and in a short time was able to be about on crutches. My recovery from that time on was very rapid and assured. My right leg, which before I commenced this treatment, was numb and dead, now experienced a pricking, tingling sensation. I was enabled to throw away my crutches and walk upright once more among my fellows, a better man physically than ever before. When first taken by the disease I weighed 160 pounds, was reduced to 115; I now weigh 166, more than I ever weighed at any time in my life. Yes, sir, I lay my recovery entirely to Pink Pill."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus' dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervous headache, the after effects of la grippe, palpitation of the heart pale and sallow complexions, and all forms of weakness either in male or female. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2 50—they are never sold in bulk or the 100) by addressing Dr. Williams' Medicine Co, Schenectady, N.Y.

A Baby's Life Saved.

WALTON, N. Y., April 14, 1894.—When my baby was six months old she was taken very badly with diarrhœa. A doctor came every day for a week. Baby got worse, until she could notice nothing at all. I got so worried I called on our druggists and he recommended Dr. Hand's Diarrhœa Mixture. I got it and just one-half a bottle cured my baby and saved her life.

The Milk Reporter, the organ of the Milk Exchange, is agitating for the repeal of the law forbidding the sale of skim milk in New York and Brooklyn. The right to sell skim milk in the great cities would give creamerymen a market for what is now in part a waste product and would put a great many dollars in their pockets every year, but it would play havoc with milk prices and make the farmer's struggle for existence a great deal harder than it now is. We cannot believe that the Legislature will pass or the Governor sign a measure so manifestly against the interets of both consumers and producers and for the middlemen as the legislation of the sale of skim milk would be.

CIRCUIT COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Mrs. Romaine's Action Against Widow Decker Dismissed—Verdict Against the Lehigh and Hudson and the Village of Walden.

In the case of Mrs. Frances Romaine, of Port Jervis, who sued Mrs. Decker, a Newburgh widow, for $10,000 for alienating her husband's affections, Judge Brown decided a case had not been made out and dismissed the complaint.

In the case of Chas. J. Dillon, against the village of Walden for $200 damages, for the killing of a pug dog, a verdict of $35 was given, but he will have to pay the costs of the suit, which will probably amount to $75.

The suit of Richard Hannigan, against the Lehigh and Hudson Railway Co., for $10 000, for the loss of a hand, was the last case tried, and the jury was instructed to bring in a sealed verdict, this morning. The Newburgh Press says a verdict was arrived at in half an hour and it is understood to be against the company for a large sum.

BEV. JOHNSON'S DISTILLERY FIRE.

Suspicions of Incendiary to Be Investigated by Coroner Corwin—Is the Suspect a Relative of Fred Maguire?

There are strong suspicions that the fire that destroyed the old Sycamore distillery at Goldenham was of incendiary origin and Coroner Corwin will make an investigation.

Suspicion rests upon a man named Mericle, of Montgomery, who was arrested on a charge of making two attempts to burn the barns at Edmonston's hotel on election day, and who, it is alleged had threatened to burn the distillery.

It was supposed Mericle was in jail on the night of the distillery fire, but it seems he was not.

He was arraigned before Justice Bushfield, of Orange Lake, who held him under bonds. He started out with a constable to look for a bondsman, but failing to secure one was allowed to go at liberty by the officer.

The Newburgh Press says that the man under suspicion is not named Mericle, but Markle and that he is a relativn of Fred Maguire, the murderer of Mrs. Gregory, who was electrocuted. He is also believed to be the man who shot Constable Millspaugh at the "Basin," eight years ago.

CHARGES AGAINST DR DARWOOD

Sent to the Presiding Elder, Yesterday—Four Charges and Fourteen Specifications

The charges against Rev. Dr. Darwood, pastor of St. Paul's Church, preferred by Rev. Mr. Dewey, of Walton, father of Mrs. E. C Royce, and of which the ARGUS was the only paper that made mention, yesterday, were sent yesterday to Presiding Elder Mickle.

There are four charges and fourteen specifications. The charges are: falsehood, two specifications; injurious and unchristian words and temper, one specification; unministerial conduct, seven specifications, improper and sinful temper, four specifications.

Rev. Arthur Thompson, of Warwick, has been assigned by the presiding elder to prosecute the charges and is in attendance on the trial of Mrs. Royce to familiarize himself with the case.

It is understood that the presiding elder thinks the trial of Dr. Darwood should take place next week.

Common Sense.

Should be used in attempting to cure that very disagreeable disease, catarrh. As catarrh originates inimpurities in the blood, local applications can do no permanent good. Clarke—Casey.

Miss Annie F. Casey, a former resident of this city, was married in the Church of Our Lady of Victory, in Brooklyn, at 8:30 o'clock, Tuesday morning, to Andrew J. Clarke, also of Brooklyn. Mr. Emmett S. Casey, brother of the bride, was best man, and Miss Nellie A. Casey, her sister, was bridesmaid.

A nuptial mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father Hartwell, of St. John's Church, and he also performed the ceremony.

The bride was attired in white brocaded satin, with chiffon trimming and the bridesmaid wore a beautiful costume of pink silk.

After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Emmett S. Casey, No. 381 Madison street, Brooklyn, at which a number of relatives and intimate friends of the bride and groom were present.

The happy couple left after the breakfast for a two weeks' visit to Washington and the South. The groom is a prosperous young business man of a family very well known in Brooklyn.

UP THE MIDLAND.

—The Hancock Herald says the O. and W. is to be double tracked. General Manager Childs stopped off once at Hancock Junction and wanted an option on a small piece of land on which he and his friends might build a club house in which to stop when they wanted to go bass fishing The local papers were soon in an uproar over the fact that that was soon to become a division station, and for two months after no one could buy an acre of land productive enough to support two rattlesnakes to the acre for less than three thousand dollars. The O. and W. is doing an excellent business and is managed economically and pays promptly, and all that, but many of us remember the time when the Erie did a business of four times that of the O. and W. over the single track of the Delaware Division The O. and W. will no doubt be double tracked in time, but we will all be older before that time comes.

Carrie Cecilia Topping
Montrose, New York.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:
"Dear Sirs—Why should we hesitate to approve an article of merit and worth? We use Hood's Sarsaparilla for our family medicine and also Hood's Pills. My little girl, 10 years old, had three sores covering the whole back part of her head, running down to the back of her neck.

It Was Dreadful

to look at and the discharge very offensive. She came home one day with an advertisement of Hood's Sarsaparilla in her hands and said: 'Mamma, get me a bottle!' I did not think much of it at the time, but I got a bottle and gave her and used Hood's Olive Ointment for outward application on the sores. I was surprised at the effect. In a little while her head began to get better, and now it is just as well and smooth as before she had the sores." MRS. FANNIE A. TOPPING, Montrose, New York.

THE TRIAL AT ST. PAUL'S.

DOORS CLOSED AS USUAL, BUT HERE'S THE WHOLE STORY.

Very Interesting Testimony—Dr. Darwood On the stand for Over Three Hours—Mrs Royce Tells Her Story in Detail—Dr. Darwood's Many Calls and the Pretext for Them—Looks as if Mrs Royce Wasn't the Only Person on Trial.

Although Rev. W. E. Clarke, who is presiding at the church trial in progress at St. Paul's, read the riot act at the afternoon session and again at the evening session, warning all of those present as witnesses or spectators against saying anything concerning the proceedings that could possibly come to the ears of newspaper men, the ARGUS is still able to lay before its readers a full and exact account of what occurred at the trial since yesterday's report ended.

When court reconvened in the afternoon, several witnesses for the prosecution, among them Mesdames Mould, Wright and Rhodes, were recalled, and gave unimportant testimony on minor points. Mrs. Mould's testimony was the most interesting, for it related to Mrs. Royce's efforts to have her brother, George Dewey, discontinue attentions paid witness before her marriage to Mr. Mould. Witness swore that in conversations with her at that time, Mr. Dewey said that his sister talked too much and her statements could not always be depended on.

DR. DARWOOD ON THE STAND.

Rev. Dr. Darwood was called to the stand at 2:45 o'clock, and his direct and cross-examination was not ended till the court took a recess at 6 o'clock.

When the cross-examination, which was conducted by Mr. McLaughlin, was begun, Judge Groo began to interpose objections, most of which were sustained by Mr. Clarke. The objections were so frequent and so general in their character as to suggest that the purpose of the prosecution was to suppress rather than to ascertain the truth concerning the matter directly at issue and concerning other matters directly relating to it. Many questions of the defense were excluded entirely and many points regarded as important were not got before the court.

Dr. Darwood denied every material allegation that has been made against him. He was a bold and defiant witness.

A SENSATIONAL INCIDENT.

While he was on the stand a rather sensational incident occurred. He was asked if he had heard the testimony of Mrs. H. P. Powers, who at the first hearing had sworn that he called at her home, when she was alone, talked to her in a somewhat peculiar manner and pulled a silk handkerchief from the bosom of her dress. The witness answered that he had heard it, whereupon Mrs. Powers, who was present, arose and called the attention of the court to the fact that Dr. Darwood had not been present when she gave her testimony, having left the room soon after she took the stand.

Dr. Darwood then explained that he had two marriage ceremonies to perform on the evening of the first trial, and that he remembered having had to leave the court while Mrs Powers was on the stand. He did not leave the room because he expected damaging testimony from the witness, or because he was unwilling to hear what she had to say. He had read her testimony and was familiar with it, and had inadvertently stated that he had heard it. He admitted having called at her house, on or about the date named by Mrs. Powers, to leave a notice for her husband; acknowledged finding her alone, but denied point blank the conversation related by her and the handkerchief incident.

Dr. Darwood's testimony completed the case for the prosecution.

EVENING SESSION.

At the evening session, which began at 7 o'clock, several witnesses were called to prove the good character of Mrs. Royce. Among them was George Geer, the well known Ontario and Western conductor, who testified that he had known Mrs. Royce for a number of years, had never heard a word against her and believed her worthy of the respect and esteem of all good people. Witness was at Mrs. Royce's house when Dr. Darwood and Mr. Ridgeway called to serve papers in connection with this trial, and heard Mrs. Royce order Dr. Darwood out of the house.

Mrs. W. F. Fuller testified to the good character of Mrs. Royce, and so did another woman, whose name escaped us in its passage through the brick walls of the church, who swore that she had known Mrs. Royce since childhood, had seen her at least once a month for years, had never heard anything against her and believed her a good and truthful woman.

REITERATED HER STORY.

Mrs. Powers was called and reiterated her story in regard to what Dr. Darwood said and did when he called on her in the absence of her husband.

George Dewey, brother of Mrs. Royce, was the next witness. He acknowledged having been attentive to Mrs. Mould, before her marriage, but denied having any conversation with her, such as she related in regard to his sister. Could not have said such things about her for he had always found her truthful.

At 9:30, court adjourned until 9 o'clock, this morning.

During the day and evening, the strain of the trial was relaxed occasionally by singing hymns. Among the hymns sung were, "Come Thou fount of every blessing" and "A charge to keep I have."

THIS MORNING'S SESSION.

Court was half an hour late in opening. In the absence of Sergeant-at-Arms Berthelf, Alvin W Cox acted in that capacity this morning.

W. F. Fuller, John Wilson and Winthrop Dorrance testified to Mrs. Royce's good character, that she was truthful and not given to gossip.

MRS ROYCE ON THE STAND.

Mrs. Royce, the defendant, was the next witness. She made a most excellent impression upon all who heard her. She was cool and collected, and told a difficult story modestly and in a very straightforward and convincing manner.

Dr. Darwood sat with his head on his hand and scarcely looked at the witness while she was testifying.

Mrs. Royce's direct examination was concluded when the court took its noon recess, and her cross-examination is in progress this afternoon.

MRS. ROYCE'S STORY.

Her story is that soon after Dr Darwood came here she was asked by a family living in the house with her to bring the pastor of the Methodist Church to baptize their sick child. She went for Dr. Darwood and at his request returned with him to show him the way. After baptizing the child, Dr. Darwood came into her parlor and began to talk with her. In the course of her conversation Mrs. Royce mentioned the fact that her father was a retired Methodist minister. Dr. Darwood thought he was just the man whom he needed as an assistant and suggested that she write to him and see if he would come to Middletown. In a few days Dr. Darwood called again. He was very anxious to have Mr. Dewey, whom he had never seen and of whom he knew nothing, as an assistant, and reproached Mrs. Royce for not writing to her father. She said she would write, and did so and Dr. Darwood kept coming to see her, making the the engagement of her father a pretext for frequent calls. She was anxious to have her parents in Middletown and for a long time did not question his good faith.

A MEDICAL EXPERT.

One day, while at her house, Dr Darwood referred to the fact that Mrs. Royce had no children and after some further conversation said he had studied medicine and proposed making a physical examination such as medical practitioners make when absolutely necessary. Mrs. Royce was naturally indignant. Dr. Darwood apologized, said he meant nothing wrong, and Mrs. Royce let the matter pass.

"OH! YOU BEAUTY."

Spring time had gone, and Middletown was blistering in the heats of summer, and nothing had come of Dr. Darwood's scheme to bring Mr. Dewey from Walton to assist him in his church work. Mrs. Royce, who began to suspect his sincerity, sent for Dr. Darwood to know why nothing had been done. She was dressed in white, and as soon as Dr. Darwood saw her, she says, he cried out, "Oh, you beauty! Oh, you beauty! How charming you look in white! I want you! I must have you!" Mrs. Royce ended the scene by calling a woman who lived in the house into her apartments.

MRS. DARWOOD'S JEALOUSY.

A note sent by Mrs. Royce to Dr. Darwood and enclosing a letter from her father fell into Mrs. Darwood's hands and she seems to have made things very unpleasant for Dr. Darwood. He came to Mrs. Royce and said his wife was jealous of her and other women, and she must do something to help him. He had a statement that he asked her to sign. She refused, saying it was not true. He cried and wrung his hands and gave family reasons why he must have a statement exonerating him. At last she wrote a partial retraction of charges she had made against him in Mrs. Darwood's presence and he gave her then and there a letter of dismissal from the church as he had promised. This was on Aug. 4th. The letter was dated Aug. 7th. Dr. Darwood gave a plausible reason for dating the letter ahead, but Mrs. Royce now doubts the truth of that explanation.

TEARS GIVE PLACE TO THREATS

Armed with Mrs. Royce's statement, which he had promised her no one would ever see, Dr. Darwood's manner changed. He was no longer a suppliant. He went to his church and demanded a vindication and set in motion the machinery which has culminated in this trial.

Such are the essential parts of Mrs. Royce's story, as told on direct examination. The cross-examination has shaken it in no important particular.

The trial will be finished to-day, if the court has to sit till midnight.

INCIDENTS AND HAPPENINGS IN GOSHEN.

Struck by the Erie Milk Train—Anniversary Meeting of the Village Improvement Society

From Our Regular Correspondent.

—A man who was walking on the Erie track in company with a boy, was struck by the milk train, near Hampton, last night. The boy escaped unhurt. The man, however, did not get off so easily, and was knocked down and badly cut and bruised. The train was stopped and the man and boy were brought to Goshen and taken to police headquarters, where the man's wounds, which are not serious, were dressed. He said he was on his way to New York.

—Don't forget the anniversary meeting of the Goshen Village Improvement Society, Thursday evening, at Music Hall, at 8 o'clock. This promises to be an enthusiastic meeting. Short addresses will be made by good speakers and instrumental music by the Goshen Band, and vocal selections by local singers will form the attractions. Tickets can be had by application to C. E. Millspaugh and Power & Co.

IN ANCIENT GOSHEN.

A Pleasant Social Event—Personal Mention—The Dairy Maid's Supper—When It Paid to Be a Man and a Brother—The Advantages of Obscurity.

(From a Special Correspondent.)

—The reception given by the Misses Youngs, at their home, near this village, last Friday evening, was one of the most delightful affairs of the season. The floral decorations were very tasteful and consisted chiefly of chrysanthemums. The music was by Buser's orchestra and the supper was served by a New York caterer. Many guests were present from New York, Brooklyn, Middletown, Chester and Goshen.

—The Dairy Maid's Supper was very pleasingly rendered at Music Hall, Monday evening. Between the two parts of the performance a recitation was given by Miss Etta Hudgins, of New York, who advertised to give an entertainment in Goshen next month, under the auspices of the Vocal Society.

—Mark Howell and family have taken up their quarters at the St. Elmo.

—Mrs. Henry Youngs and family, of East Division, will spend the winter in their country home, instead of in Brooklyn, as has been their custom heretofore.

—Judging from the many newspaper jokes apropos of the subject, it is not considered congenial to a man's feelings to have a woman offer to be a sister to him, but there must have been ameliorating circumstances in the case of which we read lately, where a very wealthy woman adopted a masculine friend as a brother so that she might leave him her fortune. The assertion that is constantly made that men are not so self sacrificing as women is, cannot be altogether true for the paragraph stated that this one "consented" to be adopted, thus showing his readiness to give up his own wishes in order that he might give pleasure to another.

—If it is true that the soul does not find rest until the body is buried, what a weary time the Czar's spirit must have been having for some time while its poor cast off, disease worn tenement of clay has been carried about and displayed to the curious gaze of thousands of people. Most of us have probably felt in moments of anger that it would be pleasant to be an absolute monarch with a private salt mine in Siberia at one's disposal, to which might be dispatched those who were temporarily obnoxious to us, but after all obscurity has its advantages, not the least of which is a private and unostentatious burial.

A VETERAN'S VERDICT.

The War is Over. A Well-known Soldier, Correspondent and Journalist Makes a Disclosure.

Indiana contributed her thousands of brave soldiers to the war, and no state bears a better record in that respect than it does. In literature it is rapidly acquiring an enviable place. In war and literature Solomon Yewell, well known as a writer as Sol," has won an honorable position. During the late war he was a member of Co. M, 2d. N. Y. Cavalry and of the 13th Indiana Infantry Volunteers. Regarding an important circumstance he writes as follows:

"Several of us old veterans here are using Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine, Heart Cure and Nerve and Liver Pills, all of them giving splendid satisfaction. In fact, we have never used remedies that compare with them. Of the Pills we must say they are the best combination of the qualities required in a preparation of this nature we have ever known. We have only words of praise for them. They are the outgrowth of a new principle in medicine, and take up the system wonderfully. We advise all to try these remedies." These remedies are sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price. If first bottle, six bottles $5, express prepaid. If positive you obtain neither unless you buy of druggists.

AN EXTRAORDINARY ROMANCE.

A Contest Over a Land Claim Causes a Reunion In Marriage.

A romance of more than ordinary interest, dating back to the opening of the Cherokee strip, was made public here recently, says an Arkansas City (Kan.) special.

When the great rush was made for the land of the strip, John Bell, from Bloomington, Ills., came to this city and made the race, securing a choice claim south of the Chilicco reservation, but when he went to file he found that a woman by the name of Sarah Bell had filed ahead of him. He returned to the claim and found no one in possession and no signs of improvements, and, of course, thought the woman had made a mistake and filed on the wrong quarter section.

Finally, after waiting several weeks for the matter to be straightened out by the officials of the land office, he decided to file a contest, and a few days later he received a letter from a lady, who proved to be his divorced wife, whom he had been separated from for eight years. She had come here from Bloomington just before the opening, made the race and was one of the first to file, and after securing her papers returned to Illinois to sell her property there, with the intention of returning and taking possession of her claim.

Further correspondence followed, but no compromise was effected, and finally Mrs. Bell came here, bought lumber and had a house built on her claim. The date was fixed for the contest, but was postponed from time to time, but was finally to have been decided at Perry one day last week.

The two contestants boarded the train for that place at Newkirk, but before they reached their destination they were both sitting in the same seat, and John had his arm around her waist, and she was sobbing on his breast. The contest was settled.

When they arrived at Perry, they celebrated the anniversary of the opening of the Cherokee lands by being reunited in marriage. They are now living happily together on the new home near the Chilicco reservation.

TIPPED THE CROWN PRINCE.

Texas Jack Rewarded Royalty For Helping Him Out of a Difficulty.

The following story is going the rounds of social circles in Copenhagen:

The crown prince, who loves to take long walks, was promenading the other day along the Strandney when he came across one of the tollkeepers. After paying his tax he began a conversation with the good man, sitting on the bench which the keeper occupied. A few minutes later a rider came running toward them. The crown prince recognized him as Texas Jack, who had ridden in several races recently.

The sportsman neither knew the crown prince nor that he was to pay toll for the privilege of using the street. The keeper was obliged to catch the bridle of Texas Jack's steed, as, speaking no Danish, the latter did not understand the demands made upon him and wished to push by. Texas Jack was growing angry when his royal highness stepped forward and announced in English that users of the way had to pay 10 oere.

Upon hearing this the long haired rider at once put his hand in his pocket, pulled out 25 oere and gave the money to the crown prince. The latter offered to return him 15 oere, but the Yankee, with a majestic wave of his whip, told the crown prince to keep the change as a reward for helping him out of his difficulty.

On the following day the crown prince went to the races. Among the competitors was Texas Jack. A few minutes before he was to show the skill of himself and horse he rode up in front of the royal pavilion to make the customary obeisance to the king. But he almost dropped his reins when, looking up, he saw the man to whom he had given the fee on the preceding day occupying the place reserved for the crown prince. His royal highness greeted him, however, most heartily, and Texas Jack rode away smiling and to victory.—Copenhagen Letter.

A CAT'S FALL.

French Scientists Gravely Inquire Why Puss Always Lands on Her Feet.

The French Academy of Sciences spent almost an entire day last week profoundly discussing the question, Why do cats fall on their feet? M. Marey read a paper and submitted 60 photographs depicting puss in various attitudes while falling about five feet. The first showed the cat with feet in air making a series of desperate appeals for succor; then a somersault was turned with more or less grace; finally the feline reached the ground on its four paws, and then, with tail aloft, bolted into a safe retreat.

There was a great deal of learned discussion as to the cause of the phenomenon. M. Marey thought the problem had been triumphantly solved by puss in the first three feet of the descent. M. Milne Edwards, M. Berthelot and others maintained that the cat uses the hand or other object causing the fall as a leverage for turning round, but this did not agree with the early photographs, in which there is no sign of rotation. M. Marcel Deprez suggested that intestinal movement might account for the phenomenon. M. Marey promised to continue his experiments and to prevent the possibility of leverage by tying the cat and then letting pussy drop.—Paris Correspondent.

Ate Deviled Oysters.

The board of managers of the Thirteen club of New York met in Davis' parlors, Orange, Saturday night and decided to hold a meeting of the club in Orange next June. Just 13 members sat down to the dinner last night. The wine cards were black, in the shape of coffins, with silver inscriptions. The oysters on the half shell were accompanied by tiny red devils in all sorts of attitudes.—Orange Dispatch.

DIVERS DID THE CLEANING.

How the Baltimore Got Rid of Her Barnacles Without Docking.

A United States cruiser in active service requires almost as much burnishing to keep her trim as does a silk hat. It isn't the brasses and metal work around her decks that cause the chief anxiety. It is her bottom. That fouls, particularly in southern seas, and it is necessary to dock her and clean away the barnacles.

But docks are not always at hand. Lieutenant Commander Sebree, in discussing this question in the United States Naval institute, described for the first time the scheme worked by the United States ship Baltimore during the Chilean trouble. She was not docked for 11 months, and during eight months of that time she was in Chilean and Peruvian waters. The Baltimore, after being docked at Toulon, France, in February, 1891, sailed for Chile. Within four or five months after arriving in Chile she began to lose speed on account of a foul bottom.

There were in the crew two seamen gunners, who had qualified as divers in the torpedo school at Newport, besides Peter Hanley, the gunner, who had also taken the course. It was decided to clean the bottom of the Baltimore by sending down divers. An iron ladder was let down from a launch alongside the Baltimore, and for use under the ship a wide Jacob's ladder was made on board. While cleaning the bottom the diver was always on this ladder, between it and the ship. He would stand, sit or lie down on the ladder, as happened to be most convenient.

The divers used scrapers made of hard wood in the shape of a broad chisel. They were about 4 inches wide and 8 inches long, with the handle end rounded down. The diver chose the man who attended to the life line. Besides this man who attended the line four other men were in the launch. Two of them worked the pumps, and the other two attended to the bow and stern lines of the launch. The divers were limited to five hours' work a day, and they got $1 an hour in addition to their regular pay.

The time taken to clean the bottom once and to clean one-third of it a second time was two months. The work was done under adverse circumstances in the harbor of Valparaiso, where frequently a sea would stop the work.

The barnacles on the bottom of the Baltimore the first time she was cleaned averaged 2¾ inches in length. Some of them were more than 3 inches long. They were often in clusters, so that they extended six inches or more from the ship's bottom.

After the bottom was cleaned the gunner made an inspection and reported that the cleaning was well done. Lieutenant Commander Sebree says that, in his opinion, a vessel can be kept practically clean and suffer no serious loss of speed for at least a year by the use of her divers at a cost of $600 for labor and about $600 for the pump.

ROASTING CHICAGO.

Messrs. Harry Hems & Sons of the Ecclesiastical Art works, Exeter, writes: "It is ten months ago since Chicago's mayor, Carter Harrison, was shot dead, and with his death the World's fair (prearranged to be formally closed two days later) died too. Yet up to the present date we exhibitors who were awarded medals and honors have received nothing. Further, queries addressed to the British commission on this subject elicit no reply, and so exhibitors may reasonably presume the commission are equally in the dark with themselves as to the matter of promised awards.

"It was not until six months after the close of the exhibition (the middle of last April) that a complete list of awards was received in this country. Apart from the expense (in the Manufactures building alone it cost the 179 British exhibitors, on an average—so it is computated—over £1,000 apiece against an average of less than half that sum at the Centennial exhibition at Philadelphia in 1876), is it fair that we should be left out in the cold in the way we are? It is credibly affirmed that the medals awarded (!) us are not even designed yet. The 'Windy City' of Chicago 'blew' so much and so offensively last year that foreign exhibitors feel more than they would perhaps otherwise have done the neglect they are now receiving at the hands of the World's fair authorities."—London Times.

A Prophetic Dream.

John Moran, a young man living in the First ward, was crushed to death on the Erie railroad Friday. The boy's mother was troubled all Thursday night by dreams in which she saw two policemen appearing in front of her house. When the boy went out on Friday morning, the mother was overanxious about him, and the last thing she said to him was:

"In the name of heaven, don't do anything that will bring two policemen to my door, for all night long I have been seeing the officers standing out there."

Later in the day two policemen brought the mangled body of the boy to the house.—Newburg (N. Y.) Dispatch.

"LOVE AND LIFE."

The Famous Painting That May Not Hang In the Executive Mansion.

To be hung or not to be hung is the question just at present in Washington.

Those in favor of hanging say that the allegorical painting "Love and Life" presented to the American people by the distinguished English artist, George Frederick Watts, R. A., ought to grace the walls of the executive mansion in Washington. Those who oppose the hanging claim that "Love and Life" is immoral; that representations of what Tulby called "the altogether" ought never to be seen anywhere, but least of all in the District of Columbia, and seem to think that the proposition to hang the painting in the east room of the White House is nothing less than a deep laid scheme to entrap the government into a quasi official approval of indecent art.

So that the great painter's generous gift has stirred up a greater commotion, if that were possible, than the famous controversy which arose about the figures on the St. Gaudens medal.

It is at the door of Colonel John M. Wilson, superintendent of public buildings, that the responsibility is said to lie. No one supposes for an instant that Watts presented the painting to America for it to be carefully boxed up and stowed away in an inaccessible room in the White House. It is hardly likely that the subject of "Love and Life" was altogether unknown to the members of congress, who, last session, accepted the gift in the name of the American people. The painting was exhibited here for several months nine years ago in the Metropolitan Museum of Art. It was among the pictures placed on exhibition last year at the World's fair, and it has been reproduced often enough to warrant the assumption that we are a very immoral people if the influence of the picture is as corrupting as is said.

In addition, the people of the United States, through Secretary Gresham, pledged their word after congress had accepted the gift that it would be hung in the White House, a letter to that effect being written to the artist.

But the picture, according to Colonel Wilson, is not a fit one to be exhibited in the executive mansion. He simply ignored the claims of Mr. Watts to be regarded as one of the first among living painters and stated that until the president gave instructions to that effect he could not think of allowing such a work to be exposed to public view in the rooms of the White House, even though the work in question were intended to form the nucleus of a future national art gallery and would consequently only remain there until more fitting quarters could be secured for it.

The painting which has brought about this discussion is one of the most important works from the brush of the British artist and is a companion picture to his "Love and Death." It represents the figures of a winged youth and a maiden climbing a steep and precipitous ascent. Both figures are nude, but, it is an absurdity to say it, there is not the slightest suggestion of indelicacy about them. Love, exemplified by the youth, stoops, tenderly helping his companion upon their toilsome journey. His half extended wings protect her slight form from the sun's fierce rays. The picture is an illustration of the truth that love raises life, that an ideal existence is possible only with the protecting care of love. In the picture, where love's feet have trod, flowers spring on the hard, rocky ground, and as the figures ascend the atmosphere becomes more and more refulgent and pure.—New York Herald.

DAINTIES THAT WE RELISH.

A Case of "Where Ignorance Is Bliss 'Tis Folly to Be Wise."

A dispatch from Sioux City brings the information that a local firm in that place boasts of making prince meat of 1,100 horses daily and of shipping large quantities labeled "dried beef" for consumption in eastern cities. The dispatch does not say that any prosecution has been instituted. Evidently manufacturers are at liberty to sell jellied boots for apple jam, colored apple peelings for grape jelly, apricot parings for peach preserves. Immature herrings now become sardines when preserved in olive oil extracted from cotton seed, unripe plums in the eastern states become French or Spanish olives according to size and color; Manitoba whitefish not becomes Russian caviare, a Montreal compound figures as De Kuyper's gin—smell, taste, green box and all, another compound of sugar, water, acids and flavoring becomes sparkling champagne cider.

Omniscience alone can tell what nastiness we eat, drink and have around us, and we may be thankful that it is not all deleterious matter. In kind consideration for consumers' squeamishness false labels are attached to fraudulent wares. Furtive attempts are made occasionally to enforce obedience to the trademark and adulteration acts, but these evidences of embryonal are not looked upon favorably by manufacturers, and before the sovereign manufacturers' frown who is to call a spade a spade?—Manitoba Free Press.

A Dry Sunday In Scotland.

I heard the other day of a novel method of evading the Sunday closing act, which has come into favor in Scotland. The would be evader of the law goes to an inn on Saturday night and looks a bedroom. He pays his half crown or whatever it may be and departs. No law compels him to sleep in the bed he has engaged. On the Sabbath morn he returns to take his ease in the inn. He does not come alone, but brings with him other thirsty souls to spend the day with him, and then it is a case of "Willie brewed a peck o' maut." In some localities the hotels are crammed to overflowing on Sundays with "bona fide travelers" of this new type and their equally bona fide guests. So difficult is it to make people sober by act of parliament.—London Truth.

PRESENTATION TO THE 24TH.

The Company Surprised by a Gift from the 5th Separate Company, of Newburgh—Incidents of the Presentation.

The members of the 24th Separate Company were treated to a genuine surprise, last evening, at the Armory. Shortly before drill a delegation of officers and "non coms" from the 5th Separate Company, of Newburgh, walked into the building, and were warmly greeted by their friends in the 24th.

At the conclusion of the drill Captain Chase stepped out in front of the company, and with a few well chosen remarks presented the 24th, on behalf of the officers and staff of his command, with a handsome frame, containing the photographs of the commissioned and non commissioned officers of the 5th Separate Company. The captain spoke of the friendly feeling which exists between the two organizations, and referred to the pleasant relations enjoyed by all at State Camp last summer.

The gift was accepted by Captain McIntyre in his usual felicitous manner, and the remarks of both speakers were received with hearty applause by the members of both companies.

The following named are the gentlemen whose photos appear in the elegant gift: Captain James T. Chase, Lieutenant James F Sheehan, Lieutenant R. J Kingston (Surgeon), First Sergeant Henry Fischer, Quartermaster Sergeant, P. J. O'Brien, Sergeants H. E. Dunn, J. Wittman, A. Gardner, F. Booth; Corporals T. Dinan, J. Gallagher, A. Faulkner, J. McDowell, F. W. Smith, George Harris, Charles Cooper, J. J. Robinson.

After a thorough inspection of the Armory the visitors were escorted to the hostelry of Mr. August Pfaff, where an informal lunch was spread, and a most enjoyable evening spent.

Most of the visitors returned to Newburgh on the Orange County Express, this morning. Capt. Chase and Lieut. Sheehan remained until train 6 and visited the State Hospital and Midway Park.

EARLY CLOSING OF THE D. AND H. CANAL.

Last Permits Issued — A Very Short Season—Boatmen's Small Earnings.

The boating season on the D. and H. canal will soon close, the last permits for cargoes of coal having been given out, Saturday. Our Haven correspondent says that this is the earliest quit he ever knew of, and adds that boating has been very slow this year, boats averaging only eight trips. In old times the boats made twelve or thirteen trips.

Boatmen are paid, at the end of the season, $7 a trip and the money from the odd hundred weights carried, which is held back as a contract binder, and many of them will begin the winter with but a small stock of cash.

Light demand for coal at Rondout, during the fall, is the cause for the early close of navigation.

W. A. Wright was re-elected President, and E. D, Woodhull Secretary and Treasurer.

THE NEW DIPHTHERIA REMEDY.

Port Jervis Physicians Have Secured a Bottle of Antitoxine.

Doctors Cuddeback and Swartwout, of Port Jervis, yesterday, received a small bottle of antitoxine, the new diphtheria cure, for which such great virtue is claimed.

The new remedy is very expensive, a very small bottle costing $25, but if it will do all that its discoverer claims it will it will be cheap at any price.

Antitoxine is the cultivated bacteria of diphtheria developed in various animals, generally the horse, and is used hypodermically, the injections usually being made between the shoulders.

Extraordinary results have been accomplished by its use if medical reports are to be believed.

Rebecca Wilkinson, of Brownsvalley, Ind., says: "I have been in a distressed condition for three years from nervousness, weakness of the stomach, dyspepsia and indigestion until my health was gone. I had been doctoring constantly with no relief. I bought one bottle of South American Nervine, which did me more good than any $50 worth of doctoring I ever did in my life. I would advise every weakly person to use this valuable and lovely medicine; a few bottles of it have cured me completely. I consider it the grandest medicine in the world." Warranted the most wonderful stomach and nerve cure ever known. Sold by J. E. Mills, Middletown, N. Y.

IS OLD AGE PITIABLE?

Not While Vigor and Zest in Living Lasts.

Bismarck, Gladstone and Holmes Full of Years and Honor.

They Keep Their Blood Well Stocked---Their Nerves Well Fed.

Some people carefully disguise the fact but a coat of paint on an old building only makes it look smart; it doesn't keep the rickety old staircases from creaking nor make the framework stronger.

What is needed is fresh bricks and morter.

Fresh blood and new tissues are the building materials that tired human bodies need. Paine's celery compound supplies all the elements for building up the worn-out, exhausted nerves and tissues.

One is never older than he feels. Many are young at 70, and the world is full of men and women who are old in heart and spirits at 30.

Nothing "ages" one like illness.

To keep young, keep well; keep the nerves calm, the blood ruddy, the system well fed. And when the sudden attack of fever or the heavy cold comes the sturdy, because well-nourished, body will resist and prevent calamitous results.

All over the country there are hard-worked business men, and men in public offices, subjected to incessant criticism and fearful nervous strain, who appreciate the saving power of Prof. Phelps' remarkable discovery, Paine's celery compound. In the thousands of cases where overwrought brains have at last refused the sleep that they so vitally needed, this great modern nerve nutriment has brought the happiest results. Multitudes of women reduced in strength, half sick and on the road to becoming life-long invalids, have sent in heartfelt stories of their rapid gain in vigor after a trial of Paine's celery compound.

"It takes years off their aching shoulders."

As the years go on, the regular tick-tick of the heart and the rhythmic action of the digestive organs and the brain slow up and the strength must be economized. The important organs need more frequent assistance and encouragement. Paine's celery compound gives just the needed stimulus to digestion and assimilation that the system requires. It purifies the slowly moving blood of any bad humor that its stagnant flow is apt to engender, and thus removes rheumatism, neuralgia, heart palpitation, nervous weakness, sleeplessness and troubles with kidneys, liver and stomach.

It was a favorite remark of the famous Dr. Parr when 106 years old, that he had always taken care to keep his body well nourished. Pure blood and healthy activity of the nervous system makes a happy, hopeful, useful old age. Paine's celery compound makes people well.

Masked Highwaymen in Norwich.

Gervere Brooks, a wealthy cattle dealer living near Norwich, was set upon by three masked highwaymen, at the corner of Mechanic and Cedar streets, in that village, at 10:30 o'clock, Monday night. He was knocked down, gagged, robbed of $286 and left in an unconscious condition. He was found about midnight, but did not regain conecious ness till morning. There is no clue to the robbers.

From Newburgh to Middletown on Foot in Three Hours.

Willison Taylor, Orange county's champion pedestrian, left the Ramedell dock, at Newburgh, at 3 o'clock, yesterday afternoon, and arrived in this city as the whistles were blowing for 6 o'clock having covered the entire distance on foot in three hours.

Will is anxiously waiting to hear from Ulster county's walker, Clifton.

New Members of the 24th.

At a meeting of the 24th Separate Company, held last night, during the drill, the following gentlemen were elected to membership: Frank Lea, and Messrs. Swartwout and Sengstacken, employes at the State Hospital.

A Masquerade Hop.

The ladies of the New Vernon Social Club will give a masquerade hop at Conklin's Hall, Thanksgiving evening. Beyea's orchestra will furnish the music.

Use It in Time.

Catarrh starts in the nasal passages, affecting eyes, ears and throat and is in fact, the great enemy of the mucous membrane. Neglected colds in the head almost invariably precede catarrh, causing, an excessive flow of mucus, and if the mucus discharge becomes interrupted the disagreeable results of catarrh will follow, such as bad breath, severe pain across forehead and about the eyes, a roaring and buzzing sound in the ears and oftentimes a very offensive discharge. Ely's Cream Balm is the acknowledged cure for these troubles.

MONTGOMERY.

Old Vets Celebrate Rev. Mr. McCready's Farewell Sermon—Removed to Chester—A Turkey Supper.

Correspondence ARGUS and MERCURY.

—Last week four of Montgomery's old veterans held a celebration at the home of one of their number "On the Bowery." They had just received their pension checks.

—Rev. R. H. McCready delivered his last sermon in the Brick Church, Sunday. It was an eloquent and very touching discourse and was listened to by a very large congregation. For the past two years Mr. McCready has been severely criticised by a certain class of citizens, who were instigated by those opposed to the rev. gentleman's radical views on the subject of temperance. The majority of the people of the congregation were well pleased with Mr. McCready's pastorate. They regret his departure and the best wishes for his success in his new field of labor will follow him.

—The household effects of the Rev. R. H. McCready were sent to Chester, on Saturday.

—A turkey supper and dance will be held by the young people of St. Mary's Church in Brady's Hall, on Thanksgiving Eve.

—Mr. William Titus is quite sick at his home on Clinton street.

—William Conning, of Cornwall is visiting his mother in this village.

—The Elite Theatre Company will play in the Academy Hall every evening during this week.

—Rev. Mr Moffat, of Pine Bush, will preach in the Brick Church, next Sunday.

—Painters Sherman and Stevens have just completed beautifying the residence of Mr. B. B. Johnston on Clinton street, with a fresh coat of paint.

—On Saturday night, John King, Jr. while intoxicated, became noisy and abusive and was promptly arrested by Officer Samuel Pitts. The next morning he was sentenced to thirty days in the county jail by Police Justice Eager. He became impudent and His Honor promptly made the sentence sixty days. William Daily was also drunk and disorderly and was run in by Mr. Pitts. He pleaded not guilty and was held for trial.
